SQUAXIN ISLAND TRIBE
FIRST PUBLIC BUDGET HEARING

June 1, 2017
4:30 p.m.
Council Chambers

The Squaxin Island Tribe needs to hear from you. The budget ordinance encourages community input and, in fact, the community has a significant role in deciding budget priorities. Come share your concerns, visions, and help set priorities for FY18 programs. 6:00 PM Dinner at the Elders Room will follow.

If you are unable to attend, please submit your input in writing.

If you need additional information, please contact a member of the Budget Commission. Those members are as follows:

Vicki Kruger, Council Treasurer
Kris Peters, Tribal Administrator
Deborah Stech, Chief Financial Officer
Patti Pahn, Director of Operations
Pam Hillstrom, Tribal Member
Carolyne Hoenier, Tribal Member
Rhonda Foster, Tribal Member, Alternate
Julie Owens, Tribal Member Alternate

Our Hearts are Broken . . . Walking On . . .

Herb Benjamin Johns Sr.

Herb Benjamin Johns, 82, was born on November 21st, 1934 and passed away on April 23rd, 2017. Herb was a member of the Squaxin Island Tribe and was the last tribal member to be born on Squaxin Island. Herb is the grandson of Dick Jackson and Sophia Jim Jackson. His parents are Del Johns Sr. and Eliza Tobin Johns.

He served as a member of the Squaxin Island Tribal Council from 1996 - 2001.

Herb spent the majority of his life in the Kamilche area where he served many professions. He worked for Olympia Oyster Company (where he broadened his knowledge in shellfish farming and processing), worked as a Squaxin Island Police Officer, became the head manager for Hartstene Island Oyster Company, and spent many years as a Security Officer for Island Enterprises, Inc. Herb worked security until his health forced him to retire.

Herb was very instrumental in restoration of the Lushootseed language for the Squaxin Island Tribe.

Herb had many hobbies. It was normal to find him collecting, trading, building, and selling boats or cars. He enjoyed carving, weaving, beading, and making drums as well. Herb was never afraid to admit that he was a sucker for food and trying new dishes.

As a Squaxin Island Tribal member, Herb Johns exercised his treaty harvesting rights with a passion. He was an avid commercial salmon fisherman, Manila clam harvester, net builder, and, most importantly, loved spending time on the Salish Sea with his family.

Herb Benjamin Johns is survived by his beloved wife; Shari Johns; his children, Sarah Eliza (Babydoll) Johns, Ruthie Whitener, Tiana Henry (granddaughter), and Rachel Mae Naranjo (granddaughter); his stepchildren, Elizabeth Yehiquo, Ilia (Dee) King, Sonny (David) Johns, Isaac Johns, Steven Kinzner, William Kinzner, and Corrie Cruz; numerous nieces, nephews, and grandchildren; and all his faithful and best friends.

He was proceeded in death by his first wife, Sarah Miller Johns; son, Herbert (Doe) Johns; stepdaughter Charlene Cooper; brothers, Lloyd Johns, Harry Johns, Richard Johns, Del Johns; and sisters Mary Johns and Ida Cooper.

Louis "Mike" Davis

Louis "Mike" Davis, 87, passed away in Olympia on April 29 of natural causes. He was born October 2, 1929 in Philadelphia, MS.

He served from 1945-1957 in the U.S. Army as a drill sergeant.

He married Rose Cooper on February 10, 2010 at Squaxin. His previous marriage was to Shirley Cultee, who passed away in 2008.

Louis worked for 35 years for Simpson Timber Co., and as a traveling missionary for the 1910 Indian Shaker Church.

He loved reading, playing baseball and other sports, fishing in Humptulips, traveling, yard work, and spending time with his dog, "George."

He helped build the Skokomish Church and dining hall.

He loved the Indian Shaker Church and reading Western books. His favorite saying was, "If you’re a minute late to church, you miss the boat."

He will be greatly missed.

He is survived by his wife, Rose Ann Davis; son, Gene Davis; stepchildren, Marcella Cooper, Angelo Rivera, Veronica James, Carmen Algea, Tony Rivera, Juanita Algea, Lydia Trinidad; son-in-law Marty Trinidad; his dog, “George;” and numerous nieces, nephews, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Marcella Cooper
iASAP Assistant
Hi, I am an enrolled Squaxin Island tribal member and the mother to one beautiful daughter, Madeena, and four sons, Joseph, Mario, Eric and Raymond.

As you can see, I am from the Cooper (Kopul) family. My mother is Rose Davis and my grandparents were Buddy Cooper and Estella Teo Cooper. I have lived here on the Reservation for most of my life.

I have 18 years of experience working with the Family Services programs for the Tribe.

I am very happy to have been chosen to be the iASAP Program Assistant for the Squaxin Island Family Services Department. It sure feels good to be working with the great team again. I enjoy working with people and helping out with whatever is needed if I can. That is what part of my new position is about - helping people strive towards success in every day challenges in life.

I look forward to seeing you if you happen to drop by the Family Services Department to say hi or talk. My door is always open to listen or even call. I will make myself available if I can. Thank you. It’s an honor for me to be part of starting up this new iASAP program for the Tribe.

Mayling Anderson
Financial Specialist 1
Hi, I have been hired as Financial Specialist 1.

My family and I recently relocated from Las Vegas, NV to the Olympia area to offer our daughter an opportunity to grow up in a more family friendly environment and, additionally, to escape the 115 degree weather. I worked for Caesars Entertainment for 10 years holding several positions, mainly in the administrative sector. I obtained by Bachelor of Science in Accounting from the University of Phoenix in 2015.

I am excited about learning about Accounts Receivable since I have not had much experience in it. I am also excited to learn about the Tribe’s culture, since I am an “outside” looking in. It is definitely new and fascinating in my point of view.

I look forward to learning more about the Squaxin Island Tribe. Thus far, I have only heard the best about the employees here. I am so happy to have been offered the opportunity to join the

Dakodah Vigil
Fish Tech 1
Hi, I have been hired as a Fish Tech 1 and I want to say I am very grateful for this opportunity. I am grateful for this job, the great co-workers and I love being outside. So thank you very much!

Lyssa Weir
ICW Case Aide
My name is Lyssa Wier and I am the new ICW Case Aide.

I recently moved back to Shelton, Washington after living in Texas for almost 15 years. My parents are Jim and Theresa Davis. I am a part of the Cooper family. I have two kids, a son named AJ, who is 9 and a daughter named Gracie, who is 4. I have been married for almost 4 years.

I am currently going to school for my bachelor’s degree in Criminal Justice with a concentration in Human Services. I should be graduating in the next year or so.

I am excited to be a part of the ICW team. It’s a career path I have always wanted to be in and I am looking forward to learning more as I go.

I am so glad to be back home in Washington! I cannot wait to see everyone and get to know everyone all over again!!

Happy Fathers Day Dads!!!
May 10th, 2017- Another successful woods cleanup

Most of the trash was located at the entrance of the gates. Our hunters are doing a great job keeping the woods clean. Thank you Skookum Creek Tobacco staff, Squaxin Law Enforcement, and Squaxin NR staff for the help today.
Afterschool Activity Program News

Jerilynn Vail-Powell - It's that time of year to start preparing for summer vacation and Summer Rec! We have our calendar and registration forms ready for families. Please bring the completed registration forms over to the TLC. All youth will need an updated registration form prior to starting on their first day. If we have any parents or community members interested in volunteering this summer, we have a quick volunteer background check to be completed prior to helping out. We could use help on occasional field trips, if you have a special talent to share with the youth or just want to spend a few hours playing with youth.

For the 2017 Summer Rec Program:
• Summer Rec dates add an extra week this year, running July 5 – August 18.
• Summer Rec hours match the tribal office hours this year, going 7:30-4:00.
• Please watch out for youth - many are walking to and from the gym this summer.

Higher Education Update

Mandy Valley - Don't forget to turn your final grades and any receipts from spring quarter/semester in by June 16th. If you are planning to apply to the Squaxin Island Education Commission for Higher Education Financial Aid, completed packets are due August 4th. New and returning students will need to complete the packet for the 2017 fall quarter/semester. Packets are available now and can be picked up at the Education Department, Monday thru Friday, between 7:30-4:30. If you have any questions or need assistance please don't hesitate to ask.

GED and Homework Help

Jamie Burris - GED instruction is on summer hours beginning in July. I will be here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday mornings from 9 – noon for any GED support. Please note that I will also be helping with high school students at that time. For more information about the GED, check online at www.ged.com or please contact me at jburris@mccleary.wednet.edu.

Education Liaison News

Peggy Peters - “Build a Better World” is a new Timberland Regional Library Summer 2017 Reading Program. Join this summer online reading program on June 1st. This fun reading program is open to all ages: pre-K, elementary through high school, and adults. For youth who sign up and log 400 minutes of reading or literacy activities, they can earn a free book or coupons from Papa Murphy’s, Northwest Trek, the Point Defiance Zoo, and the Hands On Children’s Museum.

You can do any of these activities to count towards your 400 minutes: read books, listen to an audiobook, play a board game, tell a story, take a nature walk, draw a picture, go to a library event, dance or write a story. You can track all your activities on-line. For more information call 1-800-562-6022 or go to www.TRL.org.

Tutor News

Lynice May- On April 24, 25, and 26, Squaxin Island Tribe hosted our second annual Field Trip Experience for all the first graders in the Shelton School District, at our beautiful Arcadia Point beach location. Though we didn’t get the warm sunny days we did last year, the children from Evergreen, Bordeaux, and Mountain View Elementary had an exciting educational experience.

Peggy Peters of the Squaxin Island Education Department and climate scientist Candace Penn from our Natural Resource Department planned this event, which included three exploration stations and a traditional story-telling station.

Squaxin Island elders, Paula Henry and Peggy Peters, captured the children’s attention with traditional Native American tales. Candace Penn instructed and guided students visiting our Touch Tank Station as they learned, touched, and some brave souls even held, indigenous sea creatures like moon snails, starfish, and sea anemones. Squaxin Island tutor Lynice May led the Beach Discovery Station on the shore, where the children searched for everything from barnacles to beach rocks, boat ramps to birds, and shells to seals. This year, we were pleased to be joined by South Sound Estuarium who hosted a learning station. At the Estuary Station Taisha McFall, Brett Larson, Paula Croft, and Bob Wharton used a 3-D estuary model to teach water flow and the importance of maintaining the health of our estuaries. We’d like to give a special shout out to Squaxin Island Tutor Lynn White who joined us this year and kept our groups of children moving smoothly among learning stations.

A good time was had by all. One student, Aleigha, said, “My favorite thing was holding the big orange starfish at the touch pools, and my other favorite part was finding the baby crabs on the beach.” Another student, Trinity, said, “I liked the beach discovery because I like to find things.” Teachers gave positive feedback too - a teacher from Bordeaux Elementary said, “I thought the field experience went phenomenally. The kids were engaged, and the presenters were all well prepared. I hope that our students next year can have the same experience because I want to go back again.”

Brushing Your Dog

By dogtime - Although dogs do a lot to keep their coats neat and clean, they need your help with tasks that require opposable thumbs, such as brushing.

Regular brushing removes excess hair from your dog’s coat, and cuts down significantly on the amount of hair you have to deal with on your furniture, car, and your favorite black pants. It also helps distribute the natural oils in your dog’s fur and skin, keeping her coat healthy and looking its best.

Brushing is also a great way to check your dog’s health. While you brush, look at the condition of her coat. Is it matted or tangled? Dry or oily? Also look for lumps, ticks, fleas, hair mats, cuts, and anything that looks unusual.

As she ages, she’ll get a few more bumps and lumps all over. On the off chance one of those lumps isn’t harmless, it’s better to discover it sooner rather than later.

Brushing basics

Brushing really is pretty basic. You just need to understand the type of coat your dog has and that determines how often you need to brush and what type of brush to use.

- Long-haired breeds, such as Collies and Tibetan Terriers, need to be brushed weekly, sometimes more often if the coat seems particularly tangled. A pin brush is a good choice for these breeds, because its bent-wire bristles grip the undercoat and remove loose hairs without causing pain. It can also get down to the skin. Start close to the skin and brush away from it. Use a comb to tease out any mats.
- Short-coated dogs, such as Labrador Retrievers and Greyhounds, don’t need frequent brushing because their hair doesn’t mat and tangle easily. Still, you may want to brush them every couple of weeks to remove loose hair. Use a rubber brush orhound glove, which will help bring dirt and loose hair to the surface. (The gloves fit over your hand–your dog will think you’re petting her and won’t suspect you’re actually brushing.) If you prefer a conventional brush, short coats can take a stiff natural-bristle brush or a soft slicker brush, which has little bent-metal pins in it. Follow up with a soft-bristle brush, which helps distribute the hair’s natural oils. It will feel so good she’ll go right out and roll in the dirt.
- Short, wiry breeds, such as Dachshunds and most Terriers, need a slicker brush, followed by a once-over with a metal comb. A stripping knife will remove the dead hair in the undercoat. Have someone knowledgeable show you how to use one first. If the coat has mats, work those out first.

How to brush your dog

- Brush down and out, away from the dog’s skin. Always brush in the direction the coat grows; dogs don’t like to be brushed backwards.
- Be gentle or you may damage your dog’s coat by pulling and stretching hairs until they tangle and break. Take the time to untangle any snarls just as you would if your comb got stuck in your child’s hair.
- If you encounter mats, apply a coat conditioner or mat spray and leave it on for several minutes. Then use a wide-toothed comb or a mat-splitting tool to get through the tangle. Mats can get close to a dog’s skin and removing them can be painful, so proceed carefully. You can cut out mats with scissors, but be careful you don’t end up at the vet’s for stitches; it happens more often than you’d think. If you just can’t get a mat out, take your dog to a groomer, who will probably shave the area.

When to go with the pros

While it’s true you don’t need a pro to brush your dog, there’s no shame in taking your dog to a groomer; they’re in the business for good reason.

You know how you can never get your hair to look as good as your stylist does? Well, the same is true for your dog. Besides some level of skill is called for if your dog’s coat tends to get matted. And if your dog really doesn’t enjoy her beauty routine, you’ll find that experienced groomers are good at sweet-talking even the most scaredy-cat dog into relaxing, at least a little.

Bottom line: Brushing is an essential part of a good grooming routine and will help keep your dog’s coat healthy and looking good. It’s easy to do yourself, but you’ll need a few tools and techniques to do the job right.

From Gus, the doggie guy.

Exercise is key for people with diabetes
Submitted by Patty Suskin, Diabetes Coordinator
Source: Providence Vital Signs Spring 2017

If you live with diabetes, you know the importance of managing the disease with proper diet and taking any medications that your doctor prescribed. But, did you know that regular exercise also helps?

For Type 2 diabetes, exercise is invisible insulin; exercise acts like insulin to help keep your blood sugars down.

According to a joint statement from the American Diabetes Association and the American College of Sports Medicine, regular physical activity can improve blood glucose control and delay or prevent Type 2 diabetes. Both aerobic exercise and resistance training help improve insulin function.

Start small
The goal is to become more active. Aim to get 30 minutes of moderate physical activity each day. You don’t have to do it all at once; work on getting exercise throughout the day, such as in two 15-minute increments.

If you are new to regular exercise, start by making small changes like taking the stairs, walking during lunch or a coffee break, parking farther away, and increasing the tempo while you do housework or gardening.

Consider setting yourself some small, incremental goals.

Social Support
Social support can also help get you moving, especially after the first few weeks when motivation can dip. Having a workout partner, attending group classes or having a personal trainer can make exercising more fun and help you achieve your goals.

Be Prepared
Before you exercise, check your blood sugar and be sure to pack a snack with you. Know the symptoms of low blood sugar and have your snack if you start having any of the warning signs. As a precaution, wear your medical ID and stay hydrated.

If you need help with ideas, contact Patty Suskin, Diabetes Coordinator 360.432.3929 or psuskin@squaxin.us

June is Cataract Awareness Month
Submitted by Patty Suskin, Diabetes Coordinator

Questions and answers about cataracts
Did you know anyone can get cataracts? Cataracts can affect anyone! Although most people do not show symptoms of cataracts until at least the age of 40, cataracts can also affect young adults or even children. Heredity, disease, eye injury and smoking could cause cataracts to develop at an earlier age.

Can you can prevent cataracts?
There is no proven way to prevent age-related cataracts. However, choosing a healthy lifestyle can slow the progression of cataracts.

Some ways to delay the progression of cataracts include:

- Avoiding smoking (your risk can be reduced if you quit smoking)
- Reducing exposure to UV rays by wearing UV blocking sunglasses
- Eating healthy foods
- Wearing proper eye protection to avoid injury

Eating meals rich in fruits, vegetables and whole grains can benefit not only your heart but also your eyes. Your eyes and heart both rely on arteries throughout the body for oxygen and nutrition, keeping your arteries healthy will help your eyes in the long run.

Keep your eyes in good condition by incorporating these foods into your diet, your heart and your eyes will thank you.

- Vitamin C
  Red berries, kiwi, red and green bell peppers, tomatoes, broccoli, spinach, citrus fruits and guava.
- Vitamin E
  Green leafy vegetables, sweet potatoes, avocados
- Vitamin A and Beta Carotene
  Carrots, sweet potatoes, squash, cantaloupe and leafy green vegetables.
- Lutein and Zeaxanthin
  Kale, spinach, turnip greens, collard greens, romaine lettuce, broccoli, zucchini, corn, peas and Brussels sprouts

How Do I Raise My Toddler to Eat Healthy? Part 3 of 3

Kids can be fussy about what they eat. Here are things you can do to teach your child to behave well at the table:

1. Do your jobs with feeding and let your child do theirs:
   - You decide what, when and where your child gets to eat.
   - He decides how much and whether he eats--of what you make.
2. Be child-friendly, e.g. provide small amounts of finger foods, but don’t fix something different for them.
3. Have the time at the table be pleasant. Include him in the conversation.
4. Teach him to turn down food politely--to say “yes, please” and “no, thank you”.
5. Give him encouragement: ”You can find something to eat from what we’re serving. You don’t have to eat if you don’t want to. There’ll be more food at the next meal or snack.”
6. Avoid labeling your child as a “picky eater”; instead, say they are “learning to like” certain foods.
7. Be a good role model. Try new foods yourself. Describe their taste, texture, and smell to your child. Your child is most hungry at the start of the meal, so offer new foods first.
8. Sometimes, new foods take time. Kids don’t always take to new foods right away. Offer new foods many times. It often takes a dozen tries for a child to accept a new food.

DIETARY GUIDELINES FOR AMERICANS
2015-2020
EIGHTH EDITION

Shift to Healthier Food & Beverage Choices

Here’s some good news: Eating healthier doesn’t mean you have to give up all the foods you love. It doesn’t have to be confusing or complicated either. The 2015–2020 Dietary Guidelines has a better approach—make small shifts in the foods you eat. Here’s how to do it.

What Are Healthy Shifts?

It’s simple. When you can, swap out a food or ingredient for a healthier option. For example, you could:

- Shift from whole milk to low-fat milk in your breakfast cereal
- Shift from soda with added sugars to water during lunch
- Shift from a cream-based pasta dish to one with a lighter sauce and more vegetables for dinner

How Will Making Shifts Help?

- Healthy eating patterns can help prevent chronic diseases like obesity, heart disease, high blood pressure, and Type 2 diabetes.
- Shifting to healthier choices doesn’t mean you have to change your whole eating pattern. Shifts can be easier to stick with over time—you’re just making small changes to the way you’re already eating.

Make Shifts Throughout the Day

You have a chance to make a healthier choice whenever you:

- Open your fridge for a snack
- Shop in the grocery store
- Stand at a vending machine
- Pack a lunch
- Look at a menu in a restaurant
- Cook a favorite recipe

Take advantage of these everyday opportunities to make a shift. Everything you eat and drink matters. Over time, little changes in the foods and drinks you choose can have big health benefits.

About half of all American adults have one or more chronic diseases—and they’re often related to eating a poor quality diet.
Try Out These Shifts

The Dietary Guidelines has key recommendations for how we can all improve our eating patterns. The shifts below will help you stay on track.

How to Eat More Whole Grains:
- Choose whole-wheat bread instead of white
- Have popcorn for a snack instead of potato chips (just leave out the butter)

!White Bread !Whole-Wheat Bread

How to Cut Down on Saturated Fats:
- Twice a week, have seafood instead of fatty cuts of meat for dinner
- When you’re making chili or stew, reduce the amount of meat and add more beans and vegetables

!Fatty Cut of Meat !Seafood or Beans

How to Cut Down on Added Sugars:
- Give your kids 100% juice or water instead of fruit punch
- Have a homemade fruit smoothie instead of ice cream

!Ice Cream !Homemade Smoothie

How to Cut Down on Sodium (Salt):
- Switch to unsalted nuts
- Shift from regular canned soups to low-sodium

!Potato Chips !Unsalted Nuts

How to Use Oils Instead of Solid Fats:
- Dip your whole-wheat bread in olive oil instead of spreading on butter
- Choose an oil-based salad dressing instead of cream-based

Rethink Your Drink

Choose Water Over Sugary Drinks

Did you know? Soft drinks and sugary beverages increase the risk of type 2 diabetes, heart disease, and other chronic conditions such as unwanted weight gain. (https://www.hsph.harvard.edu/nutritionsource/healthy-drinks/soft-drinks-and-disease/)

Infused water can generally be any type of fruit, vegetable or herb immersed in cold water. Infusing water with the essence of fruits, herbs, and other botanicals helps you drink plenty of liquids without the downside of excess calories, sugars, and artificial flavorings. Choose alternatives to start making healthier choices.

The 5210 Get Up and Go Challenge has been a great tool to help people become more aware of their daily habits. Tracker sheets are used to keep track of fruit and vegetable consumption, exercise, screen time, and no sugary drinks. Part of this challenge is to increase water intake while eliminating soda pop and other unhealthy drinks from your diet.

Need to Know

Hepatitis B

What is Hepatitis B?
Hepatitis B is a serious infection that affects the liver. It is caused by the hepatitis B virus (HBV). Hepatitis B can lead to liver damage (cirrhosis), liver cancer and death.

How does it spread?
Hepatitis B virus is easily spread through contact with blood or other body fluids of an infected person.

Why get vaccinated?
Hepatitis B vaccine gives long-term protection from hepatitis B, and the serious consequences of a hepatitis B infection, including liver cancer and cirrhosis.

Who should get vaccinated?
Since 1991, it has been recommended that all children get vaccinated for hepatitis B at birth. All unvaccinated adults at risk for hepatitis B infection should be vaccinated. This includes people under 60 years of age with diabetes.

All unvaccinated adults who should be vaccinated include:
- People under 60 years of age with diabetes
- Partners of people with hepatitis B infection
- People with chronic liver or kidney disease
- People with jobs that expose them to human blood or other body fluids

Talk to your doctor about whether you should be vaccinated for hepatitis B.
